Course Objectives[1]

1. To get familiar with Arabic Grammar in an easy way (avoiding complicated terminologies of classical Arabic)
2. To understand the deep-rooted meaning of the Noble Quraan
3. To apply this knowledge in all possible acts of worships especially Salah
4. To pass this knowledge to the next generation

Harf حَرْفٌ is broader than Preposition in English (as Harf is commonly understood as preposition in English)

In the context of Arabic Language, Harf حَرْف can be conceptualized in the following categories:

- Prepositions and Conjunctions
- Words indicating Emphasis
- Particles of Negation
- Conditional Particles
- Particles of Interrogation
- Connectors

Harf حَرْف : Examples

- A particle comes before the word that it links to. It can be composed of one, two, or three letters.
  Examples:

إِلَى	towards	فِي	In	مِنْ	from	لِ	for	بِ	in/with

Fil فِعْلٌ Verb

2. Fil فِعْلٌ or Verb: A word that is stuck in time (present, past or future).

   Fil فِعْلٌ has the many formats often termed as Verb Conjugation Forms, which will be covered by other lesson.

   Examples: He went home yesterday. I will attend the meeting next month. We exercise everyday.

Status of Ism إِسْمٌ: Example in English

Consider the following sentence:

The student ate his sandwich slowly outside the class early in the morning.

Now we can ask the following questions:

15

Status of Ism إِسْمٌ: Example in English

Consider the following sentence:

The student ate his sandwich slowly outside the class early in the morning.

Now we can ask the following questions:

1. Who ate lunch? Ans: The student
2. What did the student eat? Ans: sandwich
3. Where did he eat? Ans: Outside the class

Status of Ism إِسْمٌ: Example in English

Consider the following sentence:

The student ate his sandwich slowly outside the class early in the morning.

Now we can ask the following questions:

1. Who ate lunch? Ans: The student
2. What did the student eat? Ans: sandwich
3. Where did he eat? Ans: Outside the class
4. When did he eat? Ans: Early in the morning
5. How did he eat? Ans: Slowly

- Here Only Question 1 is all about the doer of the verb (eat) whose answer is "the student" so, it is Raf' رَفْع (note: here "ate" is the verb)
- While others are all details of the verb (i.e. eat) so all of them (ans to other questions) they are Nasb نَصْب

Status of Ism إِسْمٌ: Example in English

Previous sentence:

The student ate his sandwich slowly outside the class early in the morning.

- Here we find "his sandwich" which can be written as "sandwich of his"
- Similarly, we can write "Allah's Messenger" as "Messenger of Allah"
- "Our religion" ⟶ "Religion of ours"
  "Your life" ⟶ "Life of yours"

In these examples, the words "his, Allah, ours, yours" appear after "of" so they are Jarr جَرّ

Example in Arabic: Suppose we know the meanings of the following 3 words:
سَاعَدَ ⟶ to help (verb/Fil) المُدَرِّسُ ⟶ the teacher الطَّالِبُ⟵ the student

- Now consider the following Arabic Sentence:
  سَاعَدَ المُدَرِّسُ الطَّالِبَ which means "The teacher helped the student"

Example in Arabic: Suppose we know the meanings of the following 3 words:
سَاعَدَ ⟶ to help (verb/Fil) المُدَرِّسُ ⟶ the teacher الطَّالِبُ⟵ the student

- Now consider the following Arabic Sentence:
  سَاعَدَ المُدَرِّسُ الطَّالِبَ which means "The teacher helped the student"
- Now we change the order of the words:
  المُدَرِّسُ سَاعَدَ الطَّالِبَ which means the same i.e. "The teacher helped the student"

Example in Arabic: Suppose we know the meanings of the following 3 words:
سَاعَدَ ⟶ to help (verb/Fil) المُدَرِّسُ ⟶ the teacher الطَّالِبُ⟵ the student

- Now consider the following Arabic Sentence:
  سَاعَدَ المُدَرِّسُ الطَّالِبَ which means "The teacher helped the student"
- Now we change the order of the words:
  المُدَرِّسُ سَاعَدَ الطَّالِبَ which means the same i.e. "The teacher helped the student"
- Here the same Sentence with a minor variation of ending sounds:
  سَاعَدَ المُدَرِّسَ الطَّالِبُ which means "The student helped the teacher"
  The meaning is entirely changed!!

67 s of Arabic Words Properties of Ism إسْمٌ or Noun Properties of Ism إسْمٌ Status Ism: Light Vs Heavy Flexibility of Ism Pronouns Harf of Nasb Idafa

- The Combined Table 7 is the default pattern set: they are heavy. They all end with a نْ sound. More precisely they end with either نْ نِ نَ
- Removing ending نْ sound will convert them to Light (Remove ending نْ نِ نَ) NOT the نْ which is already part of the original word.
- For example: مُسْلِمُونَ (Heavy)⟶ مُسْلِمُو (Light)
- Light version will not change its status/gender/number. In the above example the light version ism مُسْلِمُو is still 3R (Masc.)

32 / 94

68 s of Arabic Words Properties of Ism إسْمٌ or Noun Properties of Ism إسْمٌ Status Ism: Light Vs Heavy Flexibility of Ism Pronouns Harf of Nasb Idafa

Ism: Light Why?

There are 4 reasons:

1. It is partly flexible (will be covered soon), name of place,non-arab names, certain plurals and adjectives, comparatives.
2. If it is a Mudaf (possessive form like x of y, here x is mudaf, will be covered later)
3. When one being called then it is light. Example: We say: يَارَحْمَنُ
4. For strong / absolute negation. Example: لَاإِلَهَ

33 / 94

69 s of Arabic Words Properties of Ism إسْمٌ or Noun Properties of Ism إسْمٌ Status Ism: Light Vs Heavy Flexibility of Ism Pronouns Harf of Nasb Idafa

Ism with ال Heavy-Light Not Applied

- Note that the discussion of heavy and light becomes irrelevant when the word has an ال on it.
- This is because نيونت and ال NEVER come together.
  Example: the word المُسلِمٌ is incorrect. The correct word is المُسلِمُ
- The words that end in ن on the other hand, keep their ن even when there is an ال on the word.
  Example: The word المُسلِمُون is correct. No need to drop ن

34 / 94

Light and Heavy version: Example

Heavy ⟶	Light
رَسُولٌ ⟶	رَسُولُ
رَسُولًا ⟶	رَسُولَ
جَنَّتَانِ ⟶	جَنَّتَا

Note: رَسُولًا i.e. رَسُولَنْ ⟶ رَسُولَ

97

Flexibility[1] of Ism

Flexibility is not one of the four properties of the اسم. Rather, it is a sub-topic under status.

[1] Details in Section 2.4 NAK Dream Textbook

42 / 94

98

Flexibility

- The discussion of flexibility only pertains to words that have an ENDING SOUND. For flexibility we are only focused on the following parts of the Muslim Chart:

Plural	Duel	Singular	Status
مُسْلِمُونَ 3R	مُسْلِمَانِ 2R	مُسْلِمٌ 1R	⟵ Rafa رَفْع (Doer)
مُسْلِمِينَ 3N	مُسْلِمَيْنِ 2N	مُسْلِمًا 1N	⟵ Nasb نَصْب (Details of verb)
مُسْلِمِينَ 3J	مُسْلِمَيْنِ 2J	مُسْلِمٍ 1J	⟵ Jar جَرّ (after OF)

Table 14: Flexibility is applicable for Ending Sound (Singular) only

43 / 94

99

Flexibility

3 Forms of Flexibility:

1. Fully-flexible (F): It is the default state for a word. It has 3 status with 3 unique endings i.e. J N R ـٍ ـًا ـٌ
2. Partly-flexible (P): 3 status with 2 endings i.e. J N R ـِ ـَ ـُ Note: it can never take تَنْوِيْن
3. Non-flexible (N): They have 3 status with 1 sound. They dont change. This means that they look the same in the رفع نصب جرstatus.

Fully-flexible are already covered in our earlier lessons, all previous tables/charts are fully-flexible. So, here only last 2 will be discussed.

How do we identify them?

- All feminine names are partly-flexible. Masculine names that have no feminine counterpart are also partly-flexible.
- There are times when a partly-flexible word can be made fully flexible by showing a ـِ in جر form in 2 ways:
  1. by adding an ال
  2. by making it a (possessive) مُضَاف

Partly-flexible (P): Example

- A. All Non-Arab names are partly-flexible.

جر	نصب	رفع
يُوْسُفَ	يُوْسُفَ	يُوْسُفُ
إِسْماعِيْلَ	إِسْماعِيْلَ	إِسْماعِيْلُ
إِبْراهِيْمَ	إِبْراهِيْمَ	إِبْراهِيْمُ
يَعْقُوْبَ	يَعْقُوْبَ	يَعْقُوْبُ
مَرْيَمَ	مَرْيَمَ	مَرْيَمُ

Partly-flexible (P): Example (Cont.)

- B1. All feminine names are partly-flexible.

جر	نصب	رفع
عائِشَةَ	عائِشَةَ	عائِشَةُ
خَدِيْجَةَ	خَدِيْجَةَ	خَدِيْجَةُ
زَيْنَبَ	زَيْنَبَ	زَيْنَبُ
إِيْمَانَ	إِيْمَانَ	إِيْمَانُ

109

Non-flexible

- They have only one form in any status. They will have same form in all places/roles.
- Words that end with أَلِفْ مَقْصُورَة i.e. ى or normal أَلِفْ i.e. ا are non-flexible.
  Example: J N R مُوسَىٰ مُوسَىٰ مُوسَىٰ
- All pointing words (both singular and plural) are non-flexible.

الأسماء الموصولة
الَّذِيْنَ	الَّذِيْ
الأَتِيْ،الَّوَاتِيْ،الَّائِيْ	الَّتِيْ
مَنْ	ما

أسماء الإشارة
ذَلِكَ	هَذا
تِلْكَ	هَذِهِ

Pronouns الضمير

Pronouns are a special type of اسم that do not display their four properties in a standard way. We will learn about two types of pronouns in this lesson:

(i) Independent Pronouns

(ii) Attached Pronouns

55 / 94

111

Independent Pronouns

	Plural	Pair	Singular
third person	هُمْ They	هُما Both of them	هُوَ He	masculine
	هُنَّ They	هُما Both of them	هِيَ She	feminine second person	أَنْتُمْ All of you	أَنْتُما You two	أَنْتَ You	masculine
	أَنْتُنَّ All of you	أَنْتُما You two	أَنْتِ You	feminine first person	نَحْنُ We		أَنا I	both

- Independent pronouns are always in the رفع status (i.e. Doer).(do not look into its ending sound or combination.)
- As for type, pronouns are always proper.
- For number and gender follow the charts given.

56 / 94

Attached Pronouns

		Plural	Pair	Singular
third person		هُمْ هِمْ They	هُما هِما Both of them	ـهُ ـهِ He	masculine
		هُنَّ هِنَّ They	هُما هِما Both of them	هَا She	feminine

Idafa الإِ ضَافَة Possession: Conditions

- Mudaf [1] مُضَاف must meet 2 conditions:
  - i. The Mudaf مُضَاف must be light (no n sound at the end)
  - ii. The Mudaf مُضَاف can not have definite article ال
- Mudaf Elaihi مُضَاف إِلَيهِ must meet 1 condition:
  - i. It must be in the جر status.

Special Note: Remember both Mudaf مُضَاف and Mudaf Elaihi مُضَاف إِلَيهِ must be Noun[2] اسم and they must appear next to each other, no word should come between them.

[1] It can be in any status (R/N/J)
[2] Second one may be a Pronoun, in general we call them here as Noun

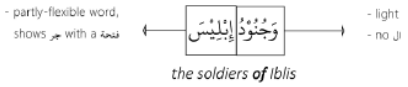

Idafa الإِ ضَافَة : 3 Examples

- In Fully Flexible Noun it is very easy to recognize (with e sound)

the Prophet of Allah

- In Partly Flexible Noun it appears as "a" sound in place of "e" sound.

the soldiers of Iblis

- In Non-Flexible (N) noun it remains unchanged:

the people of Musa

Idafa الإِ ضَافَة : Examples

مُضَاف ← Next Word مُضَاف إِلَيهِ

رَبِّ الْعَالَمِيْنَ Lord OF the worlds.

- Here, رَبِّ is Light and there is no ال so, it is مُضَاف
- Now the second word, الْعَالَمِيْنَ could be J or N, but since we have already got a مُضَاف we give the benefit of doubt and confirm that it must be in جر status as a required condition to be a مُضَاف إِلَيهِ

Idafa الإِ ضَافَة Chain: Multiple "OF"

Basic Concept in English Language:

- Example: My brother's toy-> Toy OF Brother OF Mine. There may be multiple OF in one fragment of a sentence.
- The Middle word (here Brother) can be both مُضَاف and مُضَاف إِلَيهِ.
- When we consider Toy OF Brother the word 'Brother' is مُضَاف إِلَيهِ, but for the part Brother OF Mine the word 'Brother' is مُضَاف
- The presence of more than one "OF" creates what we call an الإِ ضَافَة chain.

- We will see the identical structure in Arabic Language soon.

Idafa الإِ ضَافَة Chain: Example

Lets consider 1:4 from Quran: مَالِكِ يَوْمِ الدِّينِ the Owner OF the Day OF Judgment[1].

مَالِكِ يَوْمِ الدِّينِ

- Here, مَالِكِ is مُضَاف (No ال and it is light)
- And يَوْمِ here is مُضَاف إِلَيهِ.

مَالِكِ يَوْمِ الدِّينِ

- Here, يَوْمِ is مُضَاف (No ال and it is light)
- And الدِّينِ here is مُضَاف إِلَيهِ.

So, the middle word here يَوْمِ is both مُضَاف and مُضَاف إِلَيهِ.

[1] Note: "the" is implicit for مُضَاف in translation
